THREE HUNDRED TURK PLOTTERS UNDER ARREST

Conspiracy to Overthrow Government More Serious Than First Believed.

DOUBLES BULGAR MENACE

Porte Orders Generals at Front to Renew Battle with Invaders.

By Special Correspondent of the London Chronicle.
Constantinople, (via Constantinople), Nov. 21.—The young Turk plot to establish a republic by a coup d'état has proved a much more serious affair than was first supposed. No fewer than 300 persons have already been arrested. The conspiracy had its roots deep in the army, and its timely discovery undoubtedly has prevented an outbreak of serious disorders in the capital.

The authorities will not permit me to telegraph the full particulars direct, and have issued a statement minimizing the affair, but I can vouch for the truth of the following account:

The government received on Saturday afternoon information of the intentions of the committee on union and progress. The conspirators' plans were to have been put into execution to-day. Orders were immediately given for the arrest of the chiefs of the party, and within a few hours several ex-ministers, ex-deputies, and prominent journalists were in custody. By dawn on Saturday there had been thirty arrests.

Ex-ministers Seized.

The intention was to set up a republic under Mahmud Shekik Pasha, though some favored the leadership of Riza Bey, the real leader of the movement. David Bey heard his arrest had been ordered and escaped to the German Embassy, and is now believed to have left the country on board a Russian ship. Kili Bey, ex-minister of post and telegraphs was less fortunate. He was arrested, tried, sentenced to death, and shot. Another prominent conspirator was Husein Dagh, editor of the Journal Turc, who has been directing the affairs of the paper from Constantinople. When a large edition arrived yesterday the police confiscated it.

There have been a large number of

DEATH LIST IN HURRICANE GROWS

Practically All Towns in Western Half of Jamaica Are Wiped Out.

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 21.—The death list as a result of the recent hurricane is growing rapidly. Nearly all the towns on the western half of the island were practically wiped out, but the lack of wire communication prevents a gathering of the details. Thousands in this section of the island are homeless, trade of all kinds is paralyzed, and roads leading to the east to the west are still obstructed.

RED CROSS TO AID HURRICANE SUFFERERS

Following the receipt of reports from various parts of the West Indies yesterday, regarding the extent of the disaster in Jamaica, the American Red Cross began the collection of funds for the relief of the homeless.

"While we are rather embarrassed at present by the necessity of sending money to the Balkans," said Miss Mabel Boardman, yesterday, "we will do everything in our power to aid the stricken Jamaicans. The American Red Cross sent $5,000 to Martinique at the time of the disaster there, and we hope to be able to do at least as well in this case. As soon as we receive more definite reports concerning the extent of the devastation on the island we will send as much money as we can raise, and follow that, if necessary, with shipments of clothing and food."

FOUR STRIKE LEADERS GET LONG SENTENCES

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 21.—Four leaders in the Kanawha Valley coal strike were today sentenced to prison terms by the military court on various charges growing out of labor troubles. They were given the following terms: Joseph Baines, five years; Charles Jarrell, two years; S. P. Nace, five years; and Daniel Chain, five years.

SENATOR RAYNER REMAINS IN COMATOSE CONDITION AT EARLY HOUR TO-DAY.

Senator Isidor Rayner of Maryland was still in a comatose condition last night. He has now been unconscious for the past forty hours. Every effort to arouse him from the stupor has failed. At midnight it was said that the end might come within a few hours.

AMERICAN WOMAN WORKS FOR SERBIAN CAUSE

Mrs. Slavko Y. Grouitch.
New York, Nov. 21.—No native Serbian woman could be more zealous in her efforts to aid her country in the fight against the Turks than is Mrs. Slavko Y. Grouitch, wife of the Serbian Charge d'Affaires in London. Mrs. Grouitch, who was Miss Mabel Gordon Dunlop of Harrison County, W. Va., is now in New York for the purpose of raising $100,000 to finance the work of the Serbian Red Cross during the Balkan war. Thus far she has been most successful, and, with the aid of her friend, Miss Mabel H. Friedman, head of the American Red Cross, is gradually increasing her fund to the required amount. Mrs. Grouitch believes that she can aid her adopted country more effectively by what she is doing than by going to the front and nursing the wounded. She says, however, that she has taken a course in nursing, and, if necessary, will be called upon, will gladly go to the front and carry on her work of charity in the battlefield.

SUSPECT HICKEY KILLED WOMAN

Alleged Slayer of Josephs Boy May Be Held for Death of Mrs. Turner.

Tomb River, N. J., Nov. 21.—The application from Gov. Dix of New York for the extradition of J. Frank Hickey, who is held in the county jail here under suspicion of murdering a boy in Lakewood, N. Y., was received at the Statehouse, Trenton, today. The application will be heard on Tuesday next, November 25.

Opposition to Hickey's extradition is now developing from an unexpected source. The authorities of Lakewood are investigating a report that Hickey was in Lakewood the latter part of last April when Mrs. Carrie C. Turner was mysteriously killed. There are a number of striking similarities in the Turner murder and the Josephs murder in Lakewood. N. Y. Mrs. Turner was killed April 24. Hickey left the Lakewood colony, where he had been all winter, March 21 of that year. It is alleged that the police blotter shows a man answering Hickey's description was in Lakewood two days before and two days after the murder.

Tomb River, N. J., Nov. 21.—The Chief of Police Ray Gilson and District Attorney Dudley, of Lakewood, although they declare the chain of circumstances against the prisoner in connection with the death of the little Josephs boy is absolutely convincing, admit that Hickey is an enigma.

It seems impossible to reconcile the brutality of the crime with the evident meekness of the prisoner's disposition unless his addition to drink is responsible for the development of a dual personality.

When the extradition papers have been approved Hickey will be brought to New York Police Headquarters on his way to Buffalo. The New York police expect to connect him with a murder of a woman, Michael Kruck, who was found strangled ten years ago in Central Park.

GANGSTERS WALK OUT OF PRISON; CROWDS JEER

Scores Fill Streets When Rose, Webber, Vallon, and Schepps Are Freed.

ROSE SCORES THE POLICE

Declares "System" Is All That He Has to Fear—Plans for the Future.

New York, Nov. 21.—Declaring that the conviction of the gunmen had broken gang rule in New York and all that they feared was the police, "Jack" Rose, "Bridger" Webber, Harry Vallon, and Sam Schepps, on whose confessions five men have been convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, walked forth free to-day from the West Side prison.

Rose, chief of the informers, who admitted he was the collector for Becker and hired the gunmen to kill Rosenthal, denounced the police with special vehemence. He said that as long as Mayor Gaynor kept Rosenthaler Waldo as police commissioner there was constant danger that the system would break its vengeance upon him and the three other informers for testifying that Becker instigated the crime.

"Mayor Gaynor has been responsible for the demoralization of the police," said Rose. "He has kept Commissioner Waldo at police headquarters, and Waldo is utterly inefficient. Even when it has been proved that Becker grafted under Waldo's very nose, Mayor Gaynor refused to remove him. I am not afraid of gangs. Their rule has been broken. Of the police I am as much afraid as ever. The system got a hard knock from the conviction of Becker, but the system still remains the system."

Crowds Jeer.

In the face of a street full of people shouting "Murderers," "Informers," and "Speakers," Schepps, Rose, Webber, and Vallon quit prison to begin life over again. Schepps was the first to go. Arraigned before Magistrate Murphy in the West Side Court at 10:30, Schepps appeared in all Broadway. He was escorted by a crowd of photographers, flanked by a moving picture man, momentarily blocked his way to a taxi, Schepps exclaimed:

"Take 'em away. This is an outrage. Then turning to the reporters he shouted, 'I'm going to Hot Springs for my health, and then you'll see me on the stage. I've got to offer $200 a week, but I want $100,000.'"

"You will get it in the neck," yelled a newboy.

PULITZER ESTATE WORTH $18,000,000

Appraiser Files Report Showing Extent of Publisher's Wealth.

New York, Nov. 21.—In a report filed to-day with the Deputy State Controller, Joseph L. Berry, appraiser, reported the estate of the late Joseph Pulitzer, real and personal, as $18,000,000. The deductions for debts, administration expenses, commissions and other expenses amounted to $1,681,823.12, leaving a net estate of $16,318,176.88. The value of the different portions of the estate bequeathed to Mr. Pulitzer's heirs are estimated as follows:

Mrs. Edith Pulitzer Moore, daughter, $3,250,000; Miss Constance Pulitzer, daughter, $2,500,000; Mrs. Kate Davis Pulitzer, widow, $1,750,000; Ralph Pulitzer, son, $1,000,000; Joseph Pulitzer, son, $1,000,000; Herbert Pulitzer, son, $1,000,000; Edward W. Pulitzer, grandson, $1,000,000.

TELL OF LOOSE METHODS IN HANDLING OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN SUBTREASURY

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Loose methods in handling hundreds of thousands of dollars in the Chicago subtreaury were revealed in a cross-examination of government witnesses to-day in the trial of George W. Fitzgerald, charged with stealing $175,000 from that institution. The witnesses were former vault employees. John F. Borrell, chief vault clerk, was one of the important witnesses of the morning. After his cross-examination he told of the methods of handling cash.

"Frequently large sums of money would come from Washington," he said. "Every one in the vault would take a hand in counting the money. We did not require receipts until we handed out money to the clerks. It was possible for money to fall on the floor and be lost."

WILL PENSION EX-PRESIDENTS

Carnegie Foundation Trustees Vote $25,000 Year—Widows Are Remembered.

New York, Nov. 21.—Following a meeting of the trustees of the Carnegie Foundation, held in the home of Andrew Carnegie, it was announced that it had been decided to pension the future ex-presidents of the United States and to the unmarried widows of ex-presidents. The offer will be made to those entitled to it without application being made. The announcement, covering this part of the meeting, is as follows:

Provision has been made through this corporation for a pension, for each future ex-President and his widow, of $25,000 a year, for the term of years, as long as these persons remain single. The pension will be paid to the future ex-President and his widow, if they are able to meet the latter part of their lives during their singlehood, and the pension will be paid to the widow, if she is able to meet the latter part of her life during her widowhood. The pension will be paid to the future ex-President and his widow, if they are able to meet the latter part of their lives during their singlehood, and the pension will be paid to the widow, if she is able to meet the latter part of her life during her widowhood.

Under the terms of the announcement President Taft, when he retires on the 30th day of next March, will be offered $25,000 a year, for the term of years, as long as these persons remain single. The pension will be paid to the future ex-President and his widow, if they are able to meet the latter part of their lives during their singlehood, and the pension will be paid to the widow, if she is able to meet the latter part of her life during her widowhood.

MONEY PROBERS WILL BE DENIED ACCESS TO BOOKS

Intimate Affairs of National Banks to Be Guarded from Pujo Committee.

PRESIDENT SO DECIDES

Opinion on the Subject Has Been Given by Attorney General Wickersham.

By Joseph P. Quinn.
President Taft has decided to deny the request of Senator Pujo, of New Mexico, which is investigating the so-called Money Trust, that information dealing with the intimate affairs of national banks and now at the command of the Controller of the Currency be made available for the committee.

From an official public source came the information yesterday that the President will be guided by an opinion on the subject furnished by Attorney General Wickersham. The opinion holds that to permit the investigating committee free access to the confidential information of the Controller of the Currency would be a violation of the national banking act, which in giving the Controller and his bank examines vital powers over national banks requires that much of the detailed information of a most intimate nature and particularly that dealing with the transactions of individuals, be held as confidential. The opinion of the President, acting under the advice of his attorney general, is it is understood that an executive order granting the committee access to the confidential information of the Controller of the Currency would be a violation of the national banking act, which in giving the Controller and his bank examines vital powers over national banks requires that much of the detailed information of a most intimate nature and particularly that dealing with the transactions of individuals, be held as confidential.

The refusal of the President to open up the books of the controller's office to the congressional probe will prove, it is generally believed, a serious damper on the work of the committee, and may result in a warm passage between the President and the House in the early days of the next session. The money trust committee has not found the going particularly smooth since it started out to show up Mr. Morgan and a few other financiers. If the President's decision cannot be circumvented by some means, the going is not likely to improve as the investigation continues. Chairman Pujo, of the committee, introduced a resolution yesterday to amend the banking law so as to give the committee vital powers over national banks. The bill was reported adversely by the Senate committee and not brought to a vote on the floor. The impression now is that there is little hope that the bill can be passed at the session which opens next month.

MORE ARRESTS ARE MADE BY POSTAL AGENTS

"Schedule" Is Carried Out by Inspectors in Cases of Misuse of Mails.

PROSECUTIONS COME SOON

Washington Woman Taken Into Custody, Making Second Raid in This City.

In Washington, where Mrs. R. L. Frazer, of 123 Massachusetts Avenue, North, was arrested on a charge of violating section 21 of the postal code, prohibiting the use of the mails to support criminal medical practices or advertising medicine or treatment to be used illegally, and in other cities where scores of persons were taken into custody on similar charges, the Post-office Department inspectors and the agents of the Department of Justice yesterday practically completed the first part of their raids covering the entire country.

So far as arrests are concerned, the work of the government men is limited here. It is said that last night it was reported that probably all the 125 persons designated in the "schedule" prepared by the inspectors had been arrested. The prosecution of the cases rests with the Department of Justice.

Second Arrest Here.

Mrs. Frazer was the second person arrested here. Dr. Thomas J. Kemp, of 551 1/2 Street Northwest, having been arrested Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Frazer was to have been arrested Wednesday afternoon, but was absent from home when the deputy marshal, who was to serve the warrant, called on her home, and the matter simply went over until yesterday.

Woman Retains Counsel.

Henry J. Quinn was engaged as counsel for Mrs. Frazer. He made a statement on behalf of his client, declaring that she was a resident of a "private home," where she rents rooms. He said that her business has been strictly legitimate in every way.
